Maya wanted every guest to feel welcome. She put a paper leaf beside each plate. Then she counted the cups. One cup was missing. Her brother Eli found it on the kitchen counter. Maya thanked him and carried the napkins to the table. Grandma brought a bowl, and a neighbor brought bread. Maya noticed that everyone had helped in a different way. She drew one more leaf and wrote, "Thank you for being here." When the guests arrived, Maya showed them their places. She did not finish every job by herself. She had asked for help, shared the work, and made room for other people. The table was ready, and so was Maya.
